THURSDAY EVENING, NOV. 29.

CAPRICIOUS CAPUT—Caput's variety is really unsurpassable. It will cause him to be much hated by the fair sex as he has been adored. These are the directions which he gave the upholsterer who fitted up his dressing room at the Theatre Francaise:—"Very elegant furniture for bouquets. I have plenty of them, and very little of it. The few chairs must be narrow. I have had enough of crazy grande dames trying to sit down beside me. The question of the desk is not to be mentioned. Don't spare cups and saucers in the ornamentation. A Duchess, and a very genuine one, tired of writing letters to the tenor, which he had not the grace to answer, flung, some evenings ago, a crimson bouquet at him. The bouquet did not arouse him from his dream. Caput got through with it undisturbed, as a lyric dramatist should. But when the vision faded from his sight he rose and coolly and contemptuously drove, with a single kick, the bouquet to the wings. The bouquet grew more scarlet than her flowers, wrot and slipped from the theatre before the play was over.—London Truth.

The term "grass widow" is said to be a corruption of "grace widow," a phrase applied to one who becomes a widow by grace or favor, not (necessarily, as by death, and originated in the early age of European civilization when divorces were seldom granted by the Church.

CHROMO PHOTOGRAPHY.

By this art an ordinary Photograph can be transformed into a FINELY FINISHED ART PICTURE, strongly resembling Porcelain Miniatures, and striking as the most artistic reproductions. Yet all this can be accomplished at a very slight cost by any person of ordinary skill and intelligence, and a picture of comparatively trifling cost, rendered fifty times more valuable at a very small outlay of time and material.

This art is particularly adapted to ladies and others who are seeking light employment, whether for amusement or profit, and especially those who have skill in, or taste for, using oil or water colors, though it can be given to the public by all persons. Acquaintance with photography is needed to produce these pictures. If sold for cabinet size, each, with frames.

Briefly, the process consists in transferring the photographic print to a specially prepared surface expressly for the purpose, which is done by the use of the Adhesive Preparation, accompanying Brownell's outfit.

It is then rendered transparent by means of the Diaphanous Liquid, (sold only in connection with Brownell's outfit,) and the picture, being used, the picture is colored and finished in the manner elaborately and fully described in the Instructions accompanying the outfit, which are improved and more complete than any other details which have been given to the public.

Directions for mixing and using both Oil and Water Colors are given, in addition to other necessary items, with Brownell's outfit—a neat Black Walnut Hinged Case, containing all materials necessary for this beautiful work, costing only $2.50 and $5.00 each, according to size.

With the Diaphanous Liquid, Transparency can be secured in twenty minutes.

All materials for Chromo Photography, including Brownell's Outfit, Convex Glass, Velvet Frames, Best quality, of all sizes and descriptions, Card Board Colors, &c., &c., are supplied wholesale and retail by GEO. E. FRENCH, 95 King street.
